Anagram Systems and Encore

Founded in 1980, Anagram Systems has built its reputation and success through the intelligent provision of highly functional, high quality business management software and support services which deliver to the customer a fast return on investment.

We pride ourselves on the expertise of our staff, our caring approach to customer service, our use of up to the minute technology and our ability to work closely with our customers to support their business objectives and growth plans over the short, medium and long term. In essence, we are our customers own in-house software support and development team that they thought they could never afford.

Our software Encore is a flexible and scalable business software with stock control at its heart and around which we have built all other business processes; selling, purchasing, manufacturing, importing, exporting accounting and reporting so you get an ERP solution offering robust performance focussed on integrating all departments of your company in one single solution.

Encore simplifies the complexities of your business and significantly improves your ability to spend more time on growing it than administering it.
