Encore is a powerful software system, designed to provide businesses with a rapid return on investment by enabling users to become more efficient and productive. We provide a wide range of training courses, bringing your users the power of knowledge to help them use the system to its fullest potential.

From equipping new users with the knowledge and skills they need to use Encore confidently and fluently from day one, through to providing advanced courses for more experienced personnel, our training is key to helping businesses use our software to reduce costs and improve profitability.

Encore is designed to simplify day to day management and also provide senior personnel with the data that underpins their decision making. By investing in training, our customers ensure that personnel at all levels make the most out of Encore to achieve their goals.

top five benefits of training

1 MAINTAIN KNOWLEDGE AND SKILL

Although one off training may be provided to new starters, or other employees, it's important that training schemes are put in place to help develop skills throughout their job.

To retain knowledge, skills need to be practiced and refreshed on a regular basis so elements aren't forgotten.

2 ADVANCE EMPLOYEE SKILLS

Once a user has received basic training, this can easily be built upon and improved to provide much more benefit to the business. Staff that know more can bring more to the table, and your business will reap the rewards.

3 KEEP UP WITH INDUSTRY CHANGES

Encore is evolving all the time and our training courses will ensure that your team members are knowledgeable about new functionality and how it should be used. This is especially important following updates made to help businesses comply with new or changing industry legislation

4 STAY AHEAD OF COMPETITORS

Standing still can kill your business, so by making sure your staff are constantly advancing, you will continue to move forward and remain competitive within the marketplace.

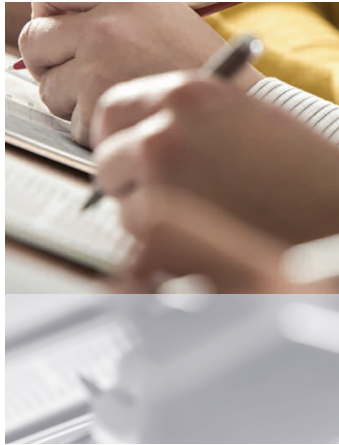

5 INCREASE JOB SATISFACTION LEVELS

Through continued investment from the business, staff can have a much higher sense of job satisfaction, which can improve their motivation towards their work. This reduces employee turnover and increases productivity, which directly improves profitability.

CLASSROOM

We provide CLASSROOM based training at our headquarters in Horsham, West Sussex. These day long courses are hosted in our dedicated facilities and are ideal for delegates who want to focus on learning new skills away from the distractions of their own office.

“Because training was held in a small group we were able to work through examples and ask questions.”

“Thanks for training the team. Great training and excellent value for money.”

“As a result of the training we have re-thought some of our processes and made changes. This course will pay for itself many times over.”

ONLINE

Our ONLINE training courses are ideal for businesses which require training for Encore users but want to minimise disruption to their working day. Provided via our online video conference service, these one to two hour courses are a highly affordable means of ensuring your team members have access to the training they need without the need for travel.

ONLINE COURSES

Provided via video conference calls, these one to two hour courses are perfect for users who require ongoing training but have limited time to attend day-long courses. These courses are run on a regular basis throughout the year and can be attended by multiple delegates from one company.
